Pain Points Section

Section Headline: The Real Cost of Fragmented Data

Delayed, Conflicting Reports Distributor data arrives on the 15th. Retail scans on the 20th. By the time you reconcile them, the market has moved and opportunities are gone.

Invisible Execution You approved the promotion and paid for displays—but did they go up? Without proof linking field execution to sales velocity, trade dollars disappear without accountability.

Reactive Innovation Traditional research takes months. Your COLA approval process feels like a black box. Every delay costs a seasonal window while competitors capture whitespace first.

The IT Bottleneck Analytics teams spend 70% of their time cleaning data instead of generating insights. Sales and marketing make gut-feel decisions because they can't trust the numbers—or wait weeks for answers.

Industry research shows bad data costs beverage suppliers 15-25% in lost revenue annually. That's missed market share, wasted trade spend, and strategic opportunities handed to faster-moving competitors.

Product Features

Section Headline: Intelligence Built for How Your Team Actually Works

Natural Language Analytics

Ask questions in plain English. Get instant answers. "Which distributors are underperforming in the Southeast?" "Show me RTD launches in the last 60 days." No SQL. No waiting for IT. No conflicting spreadsheets.

Value: Transform weeks of data wrangling into seconds of insight generation.

Predictive Intelligence

Our AI doesn't just report what happened—it forecasts what's coming. Predict COLA approval timelines before submission. Identify emerging category opportunities before competitors move. Flag distributor performance risks before they impact your numbers.

Value: Make proactive decisions with confidence, not reactive pivots in crisis mode.

Unified Performance Dashboards

Sales tracks distributor health and territory performance. Marketing measures campaign lift and promo ROI. IT monitors data quality and feed latency. Everyone sees the same numbers, updated in near real-time.

Value: Eliminate the "which report is right?" debates and accelerate decision velocity.

Competitive Launch Tracking

Monitor TTB filings, social signals, and menu additions to detect competitor innovations early. Analyze category trends and identify whitespace opportunities while they're still open.

Value: Launch smarter, faster, and into less crowded spaces.

Execution Verification Engine

Link trade promotion plans to field execution photos and sales outcomes. Verify display compliance, measure promotional lift, and calculate true trade spend ROI—all in one workflow.

Value: Turn trade dollars into measurable revenue instead of unverifiable expenses.

Automated Compliance Monitoring

AI-powered label review flags potential compliance issues before submission. Track approval timelines, benchmark against historical patterns, and receive alerts when filings move through the process.

Value: Reduce time-to-market and eliminate costly resubmissions.

Solution Architecture

Section Headline: One Platform. One Source of Truth. Zero Guesswork.

ConsumerIQ eliminates data fragmentation by creating a single, mastered data spine specifically designed for beverage alcohol suppliers.

We integrate what matters:

- Regulatory Intelligence: TTB COLA filings, state licensing data, competitive label tracking
- Commercial Performance: Distributor depletions from VIP and Encompass, retail scan and POS data
- Market Signals: On-premise menu data, social sentiment, industry publications, geographic mapping
- Execution Verification: Field photos, trade promotion tracking, compliance monitoring

The result? Role-specific intelligence delivered in real-time through AI-powered analytics—so every team operates from the same reliable foundation.

Functions We Serve

Section Headline: Precision-Built Intelligence for Every Commercial Function

For Sales & Commercial Teams

Distributors control your retail access. You need objective proof that promotions drive sales. Your team needs to know which accounts to prioritize and which territories are underperforming—before the quarterly review reveals the damage.

What You Get:

- Real-time distributor performance dashboards with health scoring
- Territory analytics linking field execution to sales velocity
- Display compliance verification with photo-validated execution
- Chain distribution tracking across every SKU and account
- Pricing compliance monitoring to protect brand positioning

The Outcome? Hold distributors accountable with data. Optimize trade spend based on measurable ROI. Hit revenue targets by focusing resources where they matter most.

For Marketing & Innovation Teams

Campaigns need to perform. New products need to launch on time. You're expected to spot trends early, measure promo effectiveness, and find whitespace opportunities—all while traditional research takes months and COLA approvals feel like black boxes.

What You Get:

- AI-powered COLA timeline predictions and compliance risk assessment
- Competitive launch intelligence from regulatory filings and market signals
- Campaign lift measurement tied to actual execution and sales data
- Social sentiment tracking correlated with purchase behavior
- Category trend analysis combining retail, on-premise, and regulatory data

The Outcome? Launch products faster with fewer regulatory surprises. Identify emerging opportunities before competitors. Prove marketing ROI with hard data, not gut feel.

For Commercial IT & Analytics Teams

Fragmented data sources, inconsistent formats, and endless data quality issues consume your time. Business teams want self-service analytics, but they can't trust the underlying data. You're seen as the bottleneck—not by choice, but by necessity.

What You Get:

- Pre-built integrations with major distributor, retail, and regulatory data sources
- Automated master data management with AI-powered matching and deduplication

- Self-service analytics tools that don't sacrifice governance
- Real-time data quality monitoring with anomaly detection
- Rapid feed onboarding with no-code configuration

The Outcome? Shift from data janitor to strategic enabler. Deliver reliable insights in hours, not weeks. Build trust through consistent, accurate, real-time analytics.
